Introduction

How will Singapore secure its Infocomm future by having a vibrant & thriving Infocomm industry? Here's how, we must have a pool of talented Infocomm professionals who possess domain knowledge and business acumen; and are innovative, entrepreneurial and globally competitive to spearhead Singapore into the next century.

Focus of Infocomm Connect

Entrepreneurship and Intellectual Property (IP) creation is vital for the next phase of growth for Singapore's Infocomm industry. This is in line with the iN2015 vision, where IDA has identified manpower development as a strategic key focus to grow the infocomm industry and enable key economic sectors. An innovative, entrepreneurial, globally competitive and Infocomm-Savvy workforce is therefore needed to drive the creation and exploitation of Infocomm Technologies.

To ensure that the infocomm industry continues to be a thriving one, there is a need to attract quality students to the sector. We want to reach out to students to impress upon them the excitement and prospects of an infocomm career.

How do you get the next generation inspired and nurture the next technologist for Singapore? Be part of Infocomm Connect.

The speakers on Infocomm Connect have been there, done that and have rich stories to tell. As passionate individuals, they can inspire your students with their stories, motivate them to take up Infocomm as a course of study and make contributions to Singapore by being entrepreneurial and create IP that belongs to Singapore.

These speakers can help to nurture Singapore's next technologist and business strategist. An initiative by the Infocomm Development Authority of Singapore (IDA), Infocomm Connect promises to be a year-long journey of inspirational and motivational story-telling. Hence, wait no longer, sign up and be part of Infocomm Connect now!

Yes, we would like to join Infocomm Connect and have your speakers speak to our students.
